

MARCH GARDEN TIPS

Veggies - You can begin your vegetable garden this month according to the “Garden Hints from your OSU Extension Agent”. You may have to wait till the soil dries out sufficiently though. It’s a good time to plant lettuce, peas, cabbage, kale and chard. Yes, we have seed and starts, including onions, asparagus and potatoes.

Divide and Conquer – Well maybe not conquer, but it sounded cool. It is a good time to divide your hostas, daylilies and a few other clumping perennials!

Fertilize – Yes, it is a good month to kick your plants into high gear. HGG has an excellent selection of earth friendly fertilizers for your garden. Your shrubs and trees would love a jolt of fertilizer. Rhodies, azaleas and camellias would also like some acid-type fertilizer and your lawn some long lasting organic blend of slow release nutrients. We have it all at HGG.

Bugs and Fungus among us – It’s the time of year to keep a look out for pests that want to take your prize plants away from you. Watch for slugs coming out of dormancy and looking for a meal. Dormant sprays can still be applied to some dormant plants to prevent certain mildews and fungus diseases. We have what you need at HGG to control these varmints in an earth friendly way!
